

Want to Fly Radio Controlled Aircraft?

Our club, the Santa Fe Dam Radio Control Modelers, is made up of people of all ages and backgrounds; all with a common interest in the hobby and sport of radio controlled model aircraft. Since 1977 this club (Chartered by the Academy of Model Aeronautics) has been continuously active, and currently flies from a private site at the base of the Santa Fe Dam, near the intersection of the 605 and 210 freeways, in Duarte, California. If you are interested in joining our club, why not come to a monthly club meeting? Or, if you have any questions, give one of our club officers a call:

See current newsletter at www.sfdrcm.com

You can also visit the club's web page at: SFDRCM.COM
Meetings are held on the 2nd Wednesday of each month, at 7:30pm, in the Red Cross Building, 376 W. Huntington Dr., Arcadia, California

Do You Need a Little (or a Lot of) Help?

The Santa Fe Dam Radio Control Modelers welcomes anyone with an interest in Radio Control Aircraft, regardless of their skill level.

Our club has a number of people who have volunteered their time to help novice RC pilots as instructors. If you feel that you need either some help or even some advice, contact one of the club instructors listed in the club newsletter, posted on the club web site.

Any of these people will be glad to help you. However, if the instructor you first call is helping several novices already, you may have to call another instructor. You are also welcome to bring your project or questions to any club meeting.
